Item 8.01 Other Events.

As previously disclosed, on December 18, 2015, Lightbridge Corporation (“Lightbridge”) entered into a letter of agreement with AREVA NP (“AREVA”) setting out the principal terms of the potential formation of one or more joint ventures between Lightbridge and AREVA to further develop, manufacture, commercialize and fund Lightbridge’s next generation metallic nuclear fuel technology. The letter of agreement establishes a framework for the future collaboration between Lightbridge and AREVA and originally provided for the parties to work towards entering into a joint development agreement by February 29, 2016.

On February 29, 2016, Lightbridge and AREVA entered into an amendment to the letter of agreement extending the date by which the parties will work towards entering into a joint development agreement to March 14, 2016.

The letter of agreement is non-binding and only expresses the basic terms and conditions that the parties presently intend, subject to mutual agreement on the feasibility and opportunity of creating the joint ventures. Neither party is obligated to proceed with the formation of the joint ventures or any other arrangement. The letter of agreement as amended will expire on March 14, 2016 or upon the earlier execution of the joint development agreement or definitive documentation for the joint ventures. The amendment to the letter of agreement also extended the exclusivity period for negotiations between Lightbridge and AREVA regarding formation of joint ventures to develop, manufacture, commercialize, or fund Lightbridge’s next generation metallic nuclear fuel technology, which exclusivity period now expires on March 14, 2016 or the later expiration of the joint development agreement.
